MOUNT CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

ALL THESE THINGS AT THY WORD

101ST FBFI ANNUAL FELLOWSHIP

JUNE 13-15 2022

FOUNDATIONS BAPTIST FELLOWSHIP INTERNATIONAL

... LORD God
of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, let it be known this day that thou art God
in Israel, and that I am thy servant,
and that I have done
all these things
at thy word.
1 Kings 18:36

Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction and of patience . . . Elijah was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly . . .

James 5:10, 17a

ELIJAH'S PLEA

If you read the life of Elijah through, you will see that whenever he takes a step it is preceded by, "the word of the LORD came unto Elijah the Tishbite." He never acts of himself; God is at his back. He moves according to the divine will, and he speaks according to the divine teaching; and he pleads this with the Most High, "I have done all these things at thy word; now let it be known that it is so."

It makes the character of Elijah stand out, not as an example of reckless daring, but as the example of a man of sound mind. Faith in God is true wisdom; childlike confidence in the word of God is the highest form of common-sense. To believe him that cannot lie, and trust in him that cannot fail, is a kind of wisdom that none but fools will laugh at. The wisest of men must concur in the opinion that it is always best to place your reliance where it will certainly be justified, and always best to believe that which cannot possibly be false.

Elijah had so believed, and acted on his belief, and now he naturally expects to be justified in what he has done. An ambassador never dreams that his authorized acts will be repudiated by his king. If a man acts as your agent and does your bidding, the responsibility of his acts lies with you, and you must back him up. It were, indeed, an atrocious thing to send a servant on an errand, and, when he faithfully performed it to the letter, to repudiate your sending him. It is not so with God. If we will only so trust him as to do as he bids us, he will never fail us; but he will see us through, though earth and hell should stand in the way. It may not be today, nor tomorrow, but as surely as the Lord liveth, the time shall come when he that trusted him shall have joy of his confidence.

The Metropolitan Tabernacle Pulpit, XXXI (1885), 173-174.

FBFI'S Mission is to provide a rallying point for Fundamental Baptists seeking personal revival and the opportunity to work with committed Bible-believers in glorifying God through the uncompromising fulfillment of the Great Commission.

FBFI'S VISION is to perpetuate the heritage of Baptist Fundamentalism complete, intact, pure, and undiluted to the succeeding generations of fundamentalists.

FBFI Core Values

Loyalty to God and His Word
Uncompromising Fellowship
Balanced Biblical Discernment
Separatist Baptist Fundamentalism
Great Commission Leadership
Vigilance for Religious Liberty

Welcome to the 101st Annual Fellowship of the Foundations Baptist Fellowship International. The purpose of our meeting is much more than encouragement. Since the earliest days of the fundamentalist/modernist controversy, faithful leaders found it necessary to meet together to identify and strategize how to face the battles of the day. Ministry requires a careful balance between theological/ecclesiastical faithfulness, Great Commission fervor, and the importance of nurturing a healthy spiritual walk with Christ. Most of all, it requires a steadfast obedience to our Lord in the face of mounting opposition. We must minister at His word, and not buckle under the pressures of the culture.

This is our first meeting at Mount Calvary Baptist Church, and we hope it will not be our last. Mark Minnick, Layton Talbert, and the staff here have been faithful editors and contributors to FrontLine magazine over the years. The Pastor's Insert has been the handiwork of this church staff for decades. We owe a debt of gratitude to them for their efforts on the magazine over the years, and now we are gratefully looking forward to enjoying their hospitality as we gather together. We are so thankful to be here. Welcome.

Kevin Schaal
President, FBF

Thank you so very much for going to all the expense and effort of attending this year. Your fellowship has been richly coveted. Our church family greatly appreciates the opportunity to host you. We have prayed for you earnestly, trusting that the Lord might favor each of you with a generous measure of the happy effects of iron sharpening iron (Prov. 27:17).

We've tried to anticipate your needs. But if we've overlooked something that would be helpful, please don't hesitate to mention it to one of our church staff. You'd be doing us a favor!

Warm hearted saints keep each other warm, Spurgeon once observed. But cold, he said, is also contagious. This week affords the possibility of warming one another's devotion to God and to His Word. As is true of any such conference, there will never be another precisely the same in its unique combinations of individuals, peculiar needs, emphases of messages, and experiences of grace. Warm appreciations after sermons, spiritually minded conversations between sessions and over meals, genuine interest in one another's ministries, sympathizing prayers with brothers in need—all of these may have their share of blessed ministry if we will be alert to opportunities.

Long ago, in a day darker than even our own, those who feared the LORD spoke with one another. The LORD paid attention and heard them, and a book of remembrance was written before him of those who feared the LORD and esteemed his name (Mal. 3:16, ESV). Oh, that our fellowship this week be of such a character that the LORD might be pleased to write it in His book!

Perseveringly Faithful

“It is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.”

1 Corinthians 4:2

I. God Is Perfectly Faithful

- A. In the Old Testament (Deut. 7:9)
- B. In the New Testament (1 Cor. 1:9)
- C. To us personally (Heb. 10:22–23; 1 Thess. 5:24; 1 Cor. 10:13; 1 John 1:9; Lam. 3:23)

Belief affects behavior; behavior reflects belief. Our view of God determines our view of life. The Word of God constantly underscores a primary attribute of God: His faithfulness. Both Old and New Testament alike underscore God’s faithfulness as the basis for our relationship with Him. God is faithful to His Word, His purposes, and His people. He is absolutely and perfectly faithful. He is trustworthy, dependable, reliable, steadfast, unwavering, and loyal!

II. God Expects Us to Be Faithful

- A. Faithfulness is the standard by which men initially enter the ministry. (1 Tim. 1:12; 2 Tim. 2:2)
- B. Faithfulness is the standard by which ministers will eventually be judged by Christ. (1 Cor. 4:2; cf. 1 Pet. 5:4; Heb. 13:17)

In New Testament days the steward (Greek, oikonomos) was the household manager. The pastor is clearly “the steward of God” (Titus 1:7). He is the household manager serving the Lord’s interest in His church while He is away.

Faithful ministers are sorely needed today in Christian enterprise. God wants men of integrity, ethics, and industry who will carry out the assigned task with energy, enthusiasm, and endurance. He desires servants to invest all their God-given resources to make gain for God. He wants His managers to turn a spiritual profit for the kingdom and glory of God. He wants men as managers who are reliable, dependable, trustworthy, and faithful.

III. God Illustrates Faithfulness in Luke's Parables

- A. Luke 12:42–48 teaches that one who is faithful must be active. He must stay with the assigned task. “Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.” (12:43) “For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required.” (12:48b)
- B. Luke 16:1–12 teaches that one who is faithful must be attentive.
 - 1. Faithfulness in small matters is the basis for greater opportunity in larger matters (16:10). “He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much.”
 - 2. Faithfulness in the management of temporal money is the basis for receiving true spiritual riches (16:11). “If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon who will commit to your trust true riches?”
 - 3. Faithfulness in others' matters is the basis for acquiring opportunity for managing personal assets (16:12). “And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?”
- C. Luke 19:12–27 teaches that faithfulness means being productive.

“Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities” (17); “five cities” (18–19). “For I say unto you, “That unto everyone one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.” (26)

Culturally Non-Conformist

Regarding Christians and Culture

“I have given them Your word; and the world has hated them because they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. ¹⁵ I do not ask You to take them out of the world, but to keep them from the evil one. ¹⁶ They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.”
(John 17:14–16, NASB)

I. What is culture?

- A. T. S. Elliot’s
- B. “Culture is that complex whole which includes knowledge, belief, art, morals, law, custom, and any other capabilities and habits acquired by man as a member of society.” What does it NOT include? Kenneth Myers, p. 27
- C. Kenneth Myers says that culture and religion are two aspects of the same thing.
- D. Culture is defined by the values of a society and the application of those values to all aspects of life. These values would include what is good and evil, beautiful and ugly, desirable and undesirable, valuable and worthless, what it loves and what it hates. These values become a culture’s benchmarks or standards by which everything in the culture is judged.
- E. There are three value systems developed in most cultures that are somewhat outside of moral values.
 - 1. Folk culture
 - 2. High culture
 - 3. Popular culture

II. Is there such thing as a Christian culture? Romans 12:1–2

- A. This would be the application of the values of Christianity to all aspects of life and ministry. We have renewed minds and transformed lives. Our view of the world is totally different than those without Christ.
 - 1. This is not just an intellectual reality.
 - 2. This is, and must be, a supernatural reality produced by submission to the Spirit. A carnal Christian can be ignorant of a biblical culture as he makes his case for what he likes in the general culture.
- B. Traditional culture and Christian culture are not synonymous.
- C. Conservative culture and Christian culture are not synonymous.

III. How do we live in two cultures at the same time? John 17:14–16

- A. Christians are required by Christ to live in the culture.
- B. Cultural interaction is not avoidable for believers.
 - 1. Isolation is not possible because it is not the will of Christ.
 - 2. Cultural interaction is beneficial because it constantly requires us to think through the core issues of our faith.
 - 3. True believers have historically understood this.
- C. Christians must not be defined by the culture. That is because we are substantially different from the culture that surrounds us.
 - 1. Christians are not “of” the culture that we inhabit.
 - 2. Being hated by the present culture is the expected condition of believers.
 - 3. Jesus prayed that we would be kept from the evil of the culture.
 - 4. Present culture is focused upon this age.
 - 5. Present culture denies God or creates a god to its own liking.
 - 6. Present culture seeks a level of popular conformity; Christians are required to be Christ-like.

- D. The Bible gives us adequate revelation to answer our cultural questions. John 17:17
1. We do not need outside philosophers or non-Christian thinkers to determine our response or role in the culture. This would also indicate the danger of market research of the lost in determining our worship practices.
 2. A spiritual walk is required for a Christian to biblically evaluate culture.
 3. This requires salvation and the presence of the spirit.
 4. Transformed thinking is essential.
 - a. That thinking cannot be jaded by sinful habits or a selfish walk. Think Demas.
 - b. The doctrine of the sufficiency of scripture (2 Tim. 3:16) was penned when Paul was in prison in Rome.
- E. Christians impact the culture by their presence and the consistent choices they make in the culture regarding biblical ethics.
1. The Great Commission is our purpose in this age, not cultural redemption.
 2. Cultural change is a by-product of effective Great Commission activity.
 3. This does not mean that Christians should not live out their faith consistently in their culture which would include voting and political engagement.
 4. This does not mean that Christians should not practice biblical apologetics regarding salvation, scripture, and the moral outworking of their faith.

IV. What are the resulting principles?

- A. Regarding Christianizing the culture
- B. Regarding defining sin
- C. Regarding declaring sin and evangelism
- D. Regarding viewing the culture as completely evil
- E. Regarding our motives as we interact with the culture
- F. Regarding Christianity and popularity
- G. Regarding the preaching and the quenching of the Spirit
