- "Shall I save thee?"
- "Shall I destroy thee?"
- "Hearken to my word . . . I am merciful"
- "Shut me not out of thy gates"

- The townsmen's response

- By barricading Ear-gate
- By setting guards at the gate
- By forbidding that any should go out to Emmanuel or come in from Him.

“Terms of Surrender”

- Emmanuel sends to the town one last time
- He gets an answer from the hand of a messenger that the leaders of Mansoul have decided to offer “terms of surrender”.
Whom do they choose as their messenger?
 - Mr. Loath-to-Stoop
 - “an old man, a Diabolonian”
 - “a stiff man in his way”
 - “and a great doer for Diabolus.”
 - What does he represent?
 - Hardness of heart, stubbornness, being stiff-necked, etc.

Propositions

Mr. Loath-to-stoop proposes 8 different seemingly peaceful solutions:

#1
#2
#3
#4

Explain the state of the sinner now

Regroup

- The captains regroup and fly the white flag on Mount Gracious
 - Diabolus knows this is for the townspeople but not for him
 - He concocts another plan and goes to the gate to speak with Emmanuel

Reformation

- Diabolus proposes that he “reform” the town for Emmanuel. He will:
 - Cease all hostility towards Emmanuel
 - Be willing to become Emmanuel’s deputy
- As deputy he would:
 - Persuade Mansoul to receive Emmanuel as their Lord
 - Show them how they have erred
 - Show them the “holy law” that they have broken
 - Press upon them a reformation according to Emmanuel’s law
 - At his own expense set up a ministry with lectures in Mansoul
 - Have the townsmen pay Emmanuel a yearly tax in order to show their subjection

Rebuttal

- Emmanuel shows the truth behind Diabolus' craftiness
 - The "greatest proficiency that man can make in the law . . . will amount to no more . . . than just nothing at all"
 - "There be that do soon discern thee when thou showest them thy cloven foot; but . . . in thy transformation thou art seen but of a few"
- He states that He has come to fully reconcile the townspeople to His father

Diabolus' Deceits

1. We'll surrender if we don't have to surrender
2. I'll give up the town if I can retain some influence
3. I'll persuade the town to turn to You by my leadership

Contrast

There is an increasingly clear contrast between Diabolus and Emmanuel.

- Diabolus
 - Deceitfulness and wily nature (conniving tricks)
 - His ploys had hidden designs
 - Willing to change tactics but not substance or purpose
- Emmanuel
 - Honesty and forthrightness (His words mean what they say)
 - Committed to total integrity
 - He demands repentance and remaking

Final Battle

- Diabolus resolves to do battle to the last
 - He commands his officers to harm the town and tear men, women, and children.
 - “We had better quite demolish the place, and leave it like a ruinous heap, than so leave it that it may be an habitation for Emmanuel.”
- Emmanuel directs His men:
 - To “be sure to show themselves men of war against Diabolus and all Diabolonians; but favorable, merciful, and meek to the old inhabitants of Mansoul.”
- The battle cry for this final assault is: “Mansoul is won!”

Taking the Town

- The captains break open the gate and take the town
- They set up the standard
- They march to Mr. Conscious house and set up a base of operations there
 - He is petrified due to his past wrongs and causes the town to feel the same way
- Diabolus retreats to the castle

Inside the Town

- Lord Will-be-will
 - Hunted through the streets by Captain Execution
- More fatalities:
 - Mr. Prejudice (keeper of Ear-gate)
 - Captain Blindfold (keeper of Eye-gate)
 - Mr. Backward-to-all-but-naught
 - Captain Treacherous
 - Mr. Ill-pause (Diabolus' orator)

“What shall I say?”

“The Diabolonians in these days lay dead in every corner, though too many yet were alive in Mansoul.”
